VANDERBILTS RAIDED

Great Retrenchment Causes Bears to Pull Down Prices of Shares.

Grangers Were Heavy and Industrials Not Largely Dealt In-Indianapolis Grain Shows Further Loss.

At New York yesterday money opened easy and held all day at 1 per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 31/2@41/2 per cent. Sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86% @4.87 for demand and $4.84%@4.85 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.86@4.88; commercial bills, $4.83%@

Silver certificates, 644@6514c. Bar silver closed at 65c per ounce; at London, 301/ad. Total sales of stocks amounted to 149,000

A feature of the dealings on the Stock Exchange was the weakness of the Vanderbilt shares, for which there did not appear to be any especially good reason beyond a bear raid, encouraged by the discharge of a large number of employes of the New York Central and reports that the most severe economy was being practiced in all departments of the company. This stock was first attacked by pulling out some seller of sixty lots at 1% per cent. under the present price, in the hope of bringing out some long stock. The grangers were heavy. Northwest preferred lost 11/2: Northwest common, %; Rock Island, 11/2, and Burlington & Quincy, % per cent., all closing at the bottom figures, except Burlington, which recovered 1/8. Sugar was only moderately active, and fluctuated within a limit of closing at the same price as on Saturday. A rumored coalition of Sugar, Coal and Iron interests to secure favorable tariff legislation strengthened the speculation in Sugar. Reading advanced % per cent. in the early trading on Philadelphia buying, supplemented by purchases of the board traders, based on favorable reports concerning the progress of the company toward reorganization. It was announced that application would be made soon by the receivers for leave to sell $5,000,000 of collateral trust notes, in order to pay off the floating debt, which would dispose of one obstacle to the rehabilitation of the company. Western Union lost a half on the day. General Electric made a gain of % on the morning trading on 1 ying induced by a report that the March statement would show that no floating debt existed and no paper was outstanding. In the final trading the shares reacted % per cent. The specula-tion in the rest of the list was small. At the opening the general market was firm, but intensely dull and inactive during the entire day. The railway and miscellaneous bond market was firm until late in the afternoon, when an unsettled tone pravailed and the closing was at a reaction. The leading changes are: Advances-Northern Pacific, 4: St. Paul, Chicago & Pacific sixes, Minnetpolis & St. Louis firsts and Equitable Gas and Fuel Company of Chicago firsts, Long Island fives and Chicago, St. Louis & Pittsburg firsts, each, 11/2. Government bonds were firm. State bonds

Philadelphia Record. Much as may have been stated in regard to the decline of the sheep industry, there are some facts in regard to sheep which should be made plain, and although the subject has not escaped this department in the past, yet this is an excellent season of the year to call attention to the future of sheep as the lambs are now coming in, and will be ready for market in a few months. First, it is important for some to know that the sheep industry is separate and distinct from the industry of wool growing. Second, that the wool is only a product of the sheep, and is but a small portion of the value of good sheep. Farmers are selling their ewes off as fast as they can get rid of them in some sections, while wiser farmers, who have given up wool for sheep, are going into the sheep business on a more extensive In order to produce the fine wools the American farmers have given their attention mostly to the merino, which is a very small sheep, active, and well adapted to scanty herbage. After the wool is removed the carcass is too small to allow of a fair profit, while the lambs require too much time to make sufficient growth in order to reach the early market, the consequence being but a small return for all-wool, mutton and lamb. The size, quality and weight of the sheep is sacrificed for but a scanty fleece of wool. It is plain that no farmer can make sheep pay who does not consider the demands of the market. While some are endeavoring to secure a few cents more per pound on wool, which would not, even at a great advance in prices, average over 25 cents greater profit on the sheep, owing to the inferiority of the lamb and mutton of the fine-wool animals, other farmers, who give no value to wool at all, and can really throw it away if they so desired, are making sheep pay. Despite the claims of some of our farmers that there is no money in sheep (wool), the reports of the last fiscal year show that Canada has sent over 300,000 sheep to this country, and paid $1.50 per head on them and 75 cents per head on lambs. But the sheep were mutton sheep of the best quality, and our farmers have not, as yet, equaled Canada or England in supplying their markets with choice mutton. In fact, but few people who buy in our markets have ever seen such carcasses as are displayed on English stalls, owing to the culls from wool sheep being shipped to the large cities in place of the breeds which should be used. A single lamb of the large mutton breeds will bring more money than all the mutton, wool and lamb of a merino combined. England does not grow wool to any extent, but every farmer keeps mutton sheep, and keeps them on farms that rent for more than the value of some farms in this country. Do not sell your ewes, but begin and grade up by using rams of the Oxford, Shropshire, Hampshire and other large breeds.

The Cost of Weeds.

Country Gentleman. Weeds have been described as "plants

out of place." The intrusion of a plant in a field occupied by another as a crop makes the intruder a weed. Crab grass in a cotton field is a pest that consumes much of the time of the cotton cultivator; and yet the planter declares that it makes excellent hay. A list of weeds gathered from experiment stations enumerates about 650 different plants, and this list includes crab grass, cock's foot, green foxtail, sweet clover, quack grass, pawpaw, tulip mint and many others that may have their uses in their proper place, which are a positive nuisance when they interfere with a growth desired by the cultivator. And yet this list, large as it is, does not include the Russian thistle, a new importation, which is rapidly overrunning the Dakotas: and it is claimed, whether accurately or not, that in an area of 30,000 square miles 1,000 square miles of wheat suffer a loss of five bushels per acre. If this is so, the lowest possible estimate of value per bushel would make the loss more than a million dollars. Truly an expensive importation. All imports withdraw their value from domestic resources, but most of them render in some form a quid pro quo. These foreign accessions not only cause great present loss but threaten to increase and overrun the country, choking out useful production to the extent of many millions annually. If taken in hand a few years ago this pest could have been stamped out with comparative ease. Now it is a difficult problem for which farmers are beginning to seek a solution seriously. Already a Dakota member of Congress has introduced a bill appropriating a million dollars for its extirpation. If Congress cannot constitutionally or equitably vote money to aid in the extinction of the gypsy moth in Massachusetts, I scarcely see how legislators can consistently make appropriations toward stamping out the Russian thistle in Dakota. Practical common sense might suggest a solution of such economic questions in two ways: First, in the fact that in each district there is likely to be some weed or insect or disease affecting animal or vegetable life with which the individual cannot cope, and which defles State jurisdiction by ond, that though now a limited area is affected, there is danger of devastation of the whole country. In the consideration of such questions breadth and comprehen-

Senators Present Many Petitions

Substitute for the Wilson Measure Submitted by Mr. Gallinger-Bills Passed by the Lower House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.-In the Senate to-day, aside from Mr. Gray's speech on the Hawaiian controversy, the most interesting incident was the presentation, by Senator Cullom, of a petition, signed by thirty thousand wool-growers of the West, protesting against the wool schedule in the new tariff bill. Among the petitioners were the Navajo tribe of Indians, who own 1,500 sheep and are prospering by this industry. Senator Culiom said he hoped the committee on finance would give the petition due consideration, as it was of an extraordinary character and represented an extensive in-

Senator Pettigrew presented a resolution directing the Secretary of Agriculture to report to the Senate the amount of wheat in the country on March 3 last, the total yield of the past year and the amount now in the country. It was adopted. Senator Cockrell presented a memorial of the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange declaring that the present stagnation of the country is due to the uncertainty of congressional action on the tariff question, and praying that the matter be settled as speedily as possible. "I am glad to see by this memorial," said the Senator, "that these petitions recognize the blunder they made when they attributed all of the distress of the country last summer to the Sherman silver law.'

A substitute for the Wilson tariff bill was presented by Senator Gallinger. It declares that, in view of the widespread industrial depression existing in our land, bringing disaster to the manufacturing interests and loss of employment and suffering to the wage-earning classes, it is unwise to make any changes in the tariff law during the present administration. The Senate, at 4:05, on motion of Mr. George, went into executive session. At 4:40 the doors were reopened, and a message was received from the House announcing the death of Congressman Houck, of Ohio. Senator Bryce offered a resolution of regret and condolence. The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

An Urgent Deficiency Bill and Other Measures Passed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.-This was District of Columbia day in the House. At the request of Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, Saturday, March 3, at 2 o'clock, was set aside for paying tribute to the memory of the late Representative Enoch, of Ohio. On motion of Mr. Breckinridge, of Arkansas, a bill was passed authorizing the Fort Smith & Van Buren railroad to construct a bridge across the Arkansas river. Mr. Flynn asked unanimous consent for the passage of a resolution to prevent the approval of new leases in the Wichita, Kiowa, Comanche and Apache Indian reservations, pending the result of the treaties now being negotiated to open the surplus lands of those reservations for settlement.

Mr. Kilgore objected. Mr. Cox. of Tennessee, asked unanimous consent for consideration of a resolution authorizing the adjustment of certain claims between the United States and the railroads of Tennessee. Mr. Cox explained that a simflar settlement had been made with the railroads of all other Southern States. Mr. Savers objected. On motion of Mr. Perkins a bill authorizing the extension of time for the construction of a high wagon bridge across the Missouri river at Sioux City was passed. On motion of Mr. Davis, of Kansas, a bill to extend the time for building a street railway across the Fort Riley military reservation eighteen months was passed. On motion of Mr. Meikeljohn a bill granting a charter to the Iowa-Nebraska Pontoon Bridge Company to construct a bridge across the Missouri at Sioux City was Mr. Heard, chairman of the District of olumbia committee, at the request of Mr. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, yielded twenty minutes to the latter, who desired to call up the urgent deficiency bill. As there was a disposition to debate the bill Mr. Breckinridge withdrew it, and Mr. Heard proceeded with District of Columbia business. The first bill called up was to regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors in the District. It amended a former act prescribing the limit of distance, four hundred feet from a school or church, within which no place for the sale of intoxicating liquors should be located. It exempted places established and licensed before the passage of the former act. Its whole purpose was to prevent the law from being retroactive. Mr. Cobb explained the purpose of the bill. Mr. Picker offered an amendment restricting liquor licenses for hotels to such as have thirty sleeping apartments, which was defeated. Mr. Pickler made the point of no quorum After filibustering some time he withdrew the point and the bill was passed. Mr. Breckinridge then moved to go into committee of the whole for consideration of the urgent deficiency bill. After Mr. Cannon had criticised the item of appropriation for the payment of United States witness fees, which, he said, was inadequate and might embarrass the United States courts, the bill was passed. By special order the remainder of the day was then consumed in paying appropriate tribute to the memory of the late Senator Stanford, of California. Those who took part in the ceremonies were: Messrs. Tracey, Hilborn, Sibley, Blair, Wheeler of Alabama, Pickler, Smith of Arizona, Wilson of Washington, Loud, Bowers and Caminetti. At 4:15 p. m. the House adjourned.

Vick's Floral Guide for 1894 appears in such attractive guise that a glance through its pages at once tempts the reader to prepare for the cultivation of flowers. It is a book to lie on the table for frequent reference. It is handsomely illustarted, contains directions for the growing and management of the various plants and describes all the noveltles and specialties in the floral world. Among the novelties are new chrysanthemums, asters, carnations and cannas. The vegetable garden is also supplied by this seed house. Rochester, N. Y.

The Breeders' Gazette says to those purchasing sheep for forming paying flocks: Seek not for the biggest of their kind, but for wide-chested, broad-ribbed, heavy-quartered, well-wooled "quality" sheep; showing good, clear, rich skins and proper breeding character-in brief, get finish combined with substance, a welldeveloped carcass, richly furnished with both flesh and wool. Such a sheep will help to make the farm pay, even in the hardest of times.
